

Clarence Stewart Jr

October 3, 1935 - November 23, 2021

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Clarence Stewart Jr

January 29, 2023 at 12:45 PM

“ Clarence Stewart Jr

January 29, 2023 at 10:10 AM

“ Sitting here and thinking about Uncle Clarence. I see he passed away on Nov 23,2021 the same day our 21st grandbaby LEGACY GENOA ADAMS was born. He was a funny and wise man that shared that wisdom with me and I know others he encountered with. Always gentle spoken and very straight forward! Always have love for you ❤️ your niece, Denise McWilson Adams

Denise Y McWilson Adams - January 23, 2023 at 11:36 PM

Denise, this is such a touching reflection on Uncle Clarence. It's incredible how life's moments align—while we lost such a wise, loving, and gentle man that day, a new life, little Legacy Genoa Adams, entered the world. Uncle Clarence truly had a special way of sharing his wisdom, humor, and kindness with everyone he encountered.

But I can't help but ask—when was this tribute put together? It's heartbreaking that none of the Stewarts, including his children Michelle and Michael, as well as his brothers, knew about it. My grandfather was such a significant part of all our lives, and we would have loved the opportunity to come together and honor him as a family.

This isn't goodbye, just a brief parting until we meet again. I only wish the whole family had been included in remembering and celebrating such a wonderful man.

Brandi Stewart - April 02, 2025 at 01:04 PM

LJ

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

Lynda Collie Johnson - December 11, 2021 at 05:05 PM

LJ

Photo by Valerie Njie

Lynda Collie Johnson - December 11, 2021 at 05:06 PM

LJ

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

Lynda Collie Johnson - December 11, 2021 at 05:03 PM

LJ

Second photo by Frank McWilson Jr.

Lynda Collie Johnson - December 11, 2021 at 05:08 PM

BS

This tribute was truly beautiful. I wanted to reach out and ask—when was the homegoing service for my grandfather? I'm Brandi Stewart, the oldest daughter of his eldest child. It deeply saddens me to learn that his children, Michelle and Michael Stewart, were unaware of this tribute to such a wonderful man.

Also, is Nunu okay? She is my grandmother, and I recently moved back to Pittsburgh. It would mean so much to connect with her and other family members so that we can come together, support one another, and surround Nunu with the love and care she deserves since my grandfather's passing this time. Family is everything, and I just want to be there for her and for all of us.

Brandi Stewart - April 02, 2025 at 12:55 PM

DA

“Uncle Clarence ...One of the few funniest,kind, loving intellectual persons I had the pleasure of knowing. Aunt Eunice and him suited each other like a pair of gloves. Will certainly miss his witting conversations. Uncle this is definitely not goodbye but just a layover until we met up again in God's City where the streets are PAVED WITH GOLD! Love you from your niece Denise and the Adams Family❤️🔥🙏

Denise Y McWilson Adams - December 04, 2021 at 11:05 PM

BS

Denise, this is such a beautiful tribute to your Uncle Clarence. He truly was a remarkable man—his kindness, humor, and wisdom touched so many lives. And you're absolutely right, he and Aunt Eunice were the perfect match, a love so pure and unwavering.

But I can't help but ask—when was this tribute put together? It's deeply heartbreaking that none of the Stewarts, including his children Michelle and Michael, as well as his brothers, knew about it. My grandfather meant so much to his entire family, and we would have loved the opportunity to honor him together.

This isn't goodbye, just a temporary separation until we're all reunited in God's heavenly kingdom. I just wish the whole family had been included in remembering and celebrating such a wonderful man. Sending love and prayers to you and the entire Adams family. ❤️

Brandi Stewart - April 02, 2025 at 01:03 PM