“ Words in times like this don't come easy for me. Dean and I was always good friends, as teenagers we were always hanging out. In later years we worked together on many jobs. He was always making somebody laugh. I moved to Florida and we always stayed in touch, joking about who was the old man. Or talking about our younger days. Dean will be missed by all people he touch on his Journey. I know I am going to miss talking to him. Love you bro. And I will see you again someday.

PS

“ Not my dad by blood, but you sure stepped up and was always there for me and my kids. You are already missed.
Get the biggest fish every in heaven. Give everyone hugs from us, we will be together again one day. Until then, I'll keep making you proud of me. Love you dad.
Keep that smile
