“ I was there when she was born. This tiny little girl who was looking around like she was trying to figure it all out. I always admired her art work and her special skill of assembling anything without looking at directions. Even when she was paralyzed and in constant pain, she never gave up, always going to physical therapy. She was convinced that she could walk again. I will always remember her as an artist, an animal lover, and a strong willed woman. I love you Bunny Aunt DeeDee
