

Wilma Mae Allen

January 1, 1942 - June 25, 2019

Born Wilma Mae Massie on January 1, 1942 to Mary Evelyn Staley Schley Massie and John Massie in McKeesport, Pennsylvania. She was preceded in wordly death by her parents and siblings: Mary Frances Strover, Harold Schley, Doris Holmes, Lwellyn Schley, Stewart Schley, Barbara Washington, Leon Schley, George Massie, Sr., John Massie, Jr., and Amelia Massie Davis. Her father and mother-in-law Bernum and Jean Allen, and sibling-in-laws: Patricia Bailey, Kay Campbell, Chester Allen, Joan Brown, Larry Allen, and Victoria Allen. "Mae" married her high-school sweetheart, James Allen on January 2, 1960. She leaves behind her three children; one son, James Allen Jr. of McKeesport, PA and two daughters: Sabrina (Antwan) Wooten of Peru, IN and Natasha (Gabriel) Moreno of Monterey, CA. Her sisters-in-law: Peggy Law, Helen Swindle, Eleanor Allen, Dorothy Blackwell, Sandra Scott and Gladys Allen. She has seven grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and a host of nieces and nephews.

Mae excelled in executive secretarial positions at various companies which included the Pittsburgh Post Gazette, Western Pennsylvania National Bank, The Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) and after 20 years of service at Job Corps, she retired in 2004. She loved playing cards and was passionate about B-I-N-G-O (54 cards or more with no chips). Mae's favorite song was "A change is Going to Come" by the legendary Sam Cooke.
